OR Board Member Sue Leslie Knows the Industry Will Find Strength in Unity

"One of the biggest obstacles to our industry's success has been and continues to be a lack of unity. It's very difficult to ask the government for support for the industry when they're hearing from all different voices with all different opinions and all different priorities."

Still, she acknowledges that the board, which represents all three breeds (Quarter Horse, Standardbred and Thoroughbred), won't always agree on every issue. Each board member gets an equal vote, and the majority vote represents what the Board believes is best for the industry as a whole. "The board of OR is governed the way the government wants to see it. They want everyone to have a voice and for all three breeds to be at the table. They want to make sure that horsepeople, breeders and racetracks are represented."
